You must tell us straight away if there are any changes to your circumstances that might affect your benefit entitlement.

If the change means that you are entitled to more benefit and you don't tell us within one month, we may not be able to award all the extra benefit.

If the change means that you are entitled to less benefit and we have already paid too much, you are likely to be asked to repay the money. We will write to you to explain how the money should be repaid.

Examples of changes you must tell us about include

- You start receiving Universal Credit
- You stop receiving Income Support or Job Seeker's Allowance
- Your Working Tax Credit or Child Tax Credit changes
- You move (even if you only move to a different room or flat within the same property)
